

By leveraging the benefits of Ethernet communication, we integrate any area of your plant with your ERP platform, such as SAP or ORACLE. This reduces manual data entry processes, improves plant availability, and provides various real-time productivity indicators through database integration, flat files, stored procedures in SQL Server, and more. We use our industrial technology and develop custom applications tailored to your specific needs.